OUR WASHINGTON LETTER

FROM OUR OWN CORRESPONDENT

WASHINGTON D C Dec 10 1866

A week's work in Congress has accomplished a great deal, especially in the House The Senate is slow in its approaches to the work of the winter, but when it does take hold it will speedily catch up the more impetuous House Some of the more cautious Republicans are alarmed at the apparent rashness of the House—as shown in the caucuses and in the official proceedings—but there is not the slightest cause for uneasiness. The House means to get at the facts of the situation and present them to the people and that is all Few of the radicals have a serious thought of an impeachment of the President, but all who are genuine Republicans mean that the country shall understand before the next Presidential election, how bad a man Andrew Johnson is, and how dangerous is his policy! The Investigating Committees will unearth some of his dirty work They show that he (perhaps unintentionally) was the author of the New Orleans massacre—that he has by his sympathy with rebels incited the spirit of murder in the rebellious states What a terrible record is made up by Generals Gibbs and Sheridan! They show that in many of the rebellious States a freedman may be murdered with impunity—that the trial of a white rebel for the murder of a black loyalist is "a farce"—to use Sheridan's expressive language These investigations will show the facts to the world, and hand Andrew Johnson down to posterity as a wicked ruler, as well as a very stupid one.

I confess to a curiosity to see the list of Seward's and the [illegible] The House has asked Postmaster General Randall why he removed certain gentlemen It is a hard question to answer It is rumored (and upon very good evidence) that the most abominable corruption can be shown in some of the transactions of the President with his new office holders. For instance, it is said that money was needed with which to build the Philadelphia 'wigwam,' and that it was at last forthcoming from one of the most corrupt men of this city, to the extent of $5,000, and that immediately in return (in payment rather), the President gave him a lucrative position where, in three months, he got back his money and $10,000 besides! Many stories of the kind are current here No doubt some are false and others exaggerated, but there is a solid substratum of truth There is no doubt that the facts will convince the people that Mr Johnson is a corrupt man and if this can be done it will insure his overthrow at the next Presidential election, and this is a far more desirable result than his impeachment and removal by Congress The people will condemn him in 1868 but his condemnation now by the Senate might be regarded as an act of partisans bent on obtaining spoils and [illegible] Better wait then for the verdict of the people To this end the House is collecting facts They are all that is necessary to accomplish the desirable result

Mr Johnson keeps his temper better than I should suppose he would under the circumstances, and hearing what a madcap he is. He is a little afraid of Congress, however he may talk to his enemies! He denies some of the allegations made against him in Congress For instance, he denies the allegation of Senator Chandler that he gave pardons at the solicitation of Mrs Cobb after he knew her character He says (he stated this to Senator Dixon) that he closed the doors on this courtesan. Some such thing was done, I believe, but unfortunately for the President's denial, there are plenty of witnesses to the fact that she soon after frequented the White House again These various allegations against the President keep him on the defensive He has no chance to make offensive war upon Congress As for his refusing to recognize it as a legal body he dare not do anything of the kind Gen Grant would quit him in an instant in any such emergency, for it would simply mean civil war—a war between the President and Congress. In any such fight as that the President would not find any of our great Generals at his side—not even Sherman For in any such contingency Congress would depose him and the President of the Senate would take his place There need be no fear that Andy Johnson and Mr Seward will enter any such dangerous path as that

The Republican of this city—a supporter of the President's policy, through thick and thin, though originally a conservative Republican—retorted upon some of the rebel in Congress who tell bad stories of the President's singular conduct with "female pardon brokers," by charging that women of at least doubtful reputation flock up the House and Senate ante rooms lying in wait for honorable members to get their votes for lobby projects This charge I fear is true I do not remember a Congress in which there has been so large a lobby as the one now gathered here A dozen projects are on foot, but the most startling one is the combination to induce Congress to add to the currency one hundred millions Even the Independent goes in for the scheme, and in its last number it gives its opinion that prices will go on steadily increasing for a number of years! That is to say, prices which are now twice and even thrice what they were before the war, will go on to four and five times their old price! What a prospect! Yet if you ask one of these speculating inflationists what is to be the final result—how we are ever to get down again to specie payments, he cannot tell you It is the vice of the theory—the currency must go on steadily increasing till ruin comes Yet such are the men who are trying to shape the financial policy of the Government!

The Speaker of the House announced the Committees for the second session, to-day, or rather the members who are to fill the vacancies A good many persons were surprised to see Gen. Rousseau put back on the committee on Military Affairs, but upon looking carefully at the question it will be seen that he could not have done otherwise Rousseau was formerly upon this committee The House censured him, he resigned, and now he is re elected The re election wipes out all the taint, he comes here precisely as if he was a new member Some insist that he should not have been entitled to his old place, but this is the constant usage of Speakers, when a man is re elected he goes upon his old committee unless there is no vacancy There was a vacancy in this case On the whole I do not see that he, (Colfax) could have done better in this selection, and in the others he has made He does not like Rousseau's conduct or his general course any better than the most rigorous radical

The House promptly passed the bill convening the Fortieth Congress, on the 4th day of March next, but it refuses, for the present, to do anything about the election in the States which have not yet chosen representatives in the Fortieth Congress It is probable that the subject will be left to the State Legislatures

ONCE A WEEK.

THE NEW YORK "HERALD" ON U. S. SUPREME COURT —We extract the following from an editorial article in the New York Herald of December 2d

But what can Congress do, with the Supreme Court still holding on the teachings of the Dred Scott decision and blockading the way?

Congress still has the remedy in its hands, in the power to reconstruct the Supreme Court itself In the repeal of the laws creating and relating to the present Supreme Court it may be abolished and a new Court may be established in its place with new Judges from the Chief Justice down and fewer or more in number as Congress may prescribe The present Court was first changed from a purely judicial tribunal to a place of partisan rewards by General Jackson, in his appointment of a useful partisan, Roger B Taney, as Chief Justice The Dred Scott decision was his legacy as a Judge, declaring that a negro in the United States under the Constitution has no right which a white man is bound to respect!

Here is an inviting field for Congressional reconstruction Of the nine Judges of this Court there are five who still believe in the Union and the Constitution as they were under Buchanan what security have we against some future decision reaffirming the Dred Scott decision and the doctrine of the Chicago Convention—that the war for the Union was a failure? Five against four One man in this Court is invested with the power of turning the Government back again to Buchanan Have we not here a relic of the past demanding a thorough reconstruction?

FROM IDAHO

MELANCHOLY OCCURRENCE

Our town was thrown into a fearful excitement on Tuesday morning, by the announcement that an immense slide from the mountain south of town had buried up two men who were living in a cabin in the gulch, about one fourth of a mile from this city Everybody rushed to render assistance, and in a short space of time, the ruins of what was left of the cabin, was reached and two bodies were found under the stone chimney Life was extinct in both They were brought to town and their bodies laid out in the Empire Building where they were washed and dressed properly They were young men—brothers and named Rodgers and were from Marysville California where their father resides This mournful visitation has cast a gloom over the entire community Looking upon them as they were being dressed for their long sleep, we realized fully, that though in life, there was "but a step between us and death" Young, robust and with an unusually fine muscular development, they but a moment before were sitting by the fireside, doubtless, thinking of a long and promising future, nor dreaming that the angel of death was at the door The bolt sped, and without notice instantly, they were summoned to the presence of Him who judgeth the secrets of all hearts

The slide was about two hundred yards in width and from the point of starting seemed to converge and make directly to the point where the cabin was standing Portions of the cabin were carried a hundred yards away, and up the opposite side of the gulch.

FLINT DISTRICT

The quartz mill of Carter & Co , in Flint District is nearly completed, and will probably start inside of two weeks The roasting furnaces which are the only thing that can delay them so long, are being rapidly built. The mill when completed will be a sort of novelty in the way of quartz mills as well as an evidence of the energy of the proprietors—Russ Carter and Wallace Greenwell It is made up of four two hundred pound stamps, engine and machinery of the little Vass & Morse mill which used to clatter away up the gulch near Silver City, two stamps, engine and machinery of the little Pueblo mill, and the two stamps and pans that formerly worked in McBean's mill The last four stamps are four hundred and fifty pounds each Both engines work on the same shaft and it is claimed that they are so rigged as to gain five horse power The work is substantially done, and considering the remarkable scarcity of "equivalents" with the proprietors has been carried on with consummate energy It is the intention to work rock from the Rising Sun mine owned by W H Wickersham and Russ Carter of this vicinity, and Louis Eckhardt of Idaho City This mill will be a prominent feature in developing the richness of the new district and we congratulate the gentlemen upon the success of their enterprise so far, and wish them as they deserve the realization of their most sanguine expectations

From the Avalanche of the 19th we have the annexed intelligence

INDIAN FIGHT.

Under date of Camp Lyon, January 11th, we have been supplied with the following account of a scout after Indians "January 1. Mr Pickett, Beeche, and Express Messenger Phillips, with four Indian scouts, left Camp Lyon for the purpose of finding Indians, if possible We traveled west from Camp Lyon until we struck the Owyhee river about twenty five miles below Hill's Ferry, which place is named Big Canyon on Big Bend in the river. We then traveled down the river some twenty five miles. On the evening of the 8th we saw twelve Indians with six horses We commenced an attack on them by firing our pieces at them Killed one Indian, captured two horses and destroyed several bushels of seeds When we commenced firing on them they left post haste for the other side of the river"

This note was written by one of the party, and is another evidence that well directed search and a wish to find a fight will be rewarded with success.

HALL'S RANCH

A voting precinct established by the Board of Owyhee County Commissioners is known as "Hall's Ranch" A military map, of which we recently made mention, shows this place to be located in Oregon, fully six miles from the Idaho line The map in question is undoubtedly correct and shows that the Ranch is beyond Idaho jurisdiction, and all authority thus far extended over it by this county is illegal The Oregon and Idaho line extends due south from the mouth of Owyhee river, and the recent instrumental survey of the country by Lieutenant Colonel Williamson discloses the facts as above stated The Board of County Commissioners might properly take some notice of "the situation"

WHISKY GULCH

We have good authority for saying that uncommonly rich ore is being now taken from this mine, and that the miners have thirty or forty tons ahead of their contract for the Shoenbar Mill.

The mail from Rio Janeiro brings us a piece of news as significant as it is pleasing The Emperor of Brazil has just liberated the national slaves, the profits of whose labors belonged to the Crown, and large numbers of the freedmen, we learn, have entered the army, and are being forwarded in detachments to the seat of war This looks like the first step toward general emancipation in Brazil—at least, it is so regarded by the Abolition party of the Empire The Emperor of Brazil is known as one of the most enlightened and liberal rulers of the age, and there can be no doubt that he sincerely desires to see the fine country which he governs delivered from the incubus and stigma of slavery In liberating the national slaves he has in effect, entered a quiet but telling protest against the "institution," and the influence of his example can hardly fail to prepare the way for the emancipation of the slaves throughout the Empire It strikes us that the course pursued by the United States Government in our civil war has had something to do with the Emperor's action in freeing the Crown slaves At any rate, it is remarkable that as in our case, Brazil accepts the services of the negro as a soldier, to fight the battles of his country, putting the sword into hands from which the manacles have just fallen —N Y Tribune

THE RICE CROP OF LOUISIANA —The Planters' Banner says "A planter in Terrebonne parish lately informed us that the common yield of rice in that parish is about six barrels of clean rice to the acre where the land is not flooded A barrel of clean rice is about three bushels, and weighs from two hundred and fifty to three hundred pounds Ten barrels of rice, two hundred and fifty pounds to the barrel, at twelve cents a pound will bring three hundred dollars. One hundred acres of rice, at the lowest estimate, six barrels to the acre, two hundred and fifty pounds to the barrel, and six cents per pound will amount to nine thousand dollars It is an easy crop to make a good poor man's crop, and a good lazy man's crop, and even better for a man of industry and means"

Civil rights in Georgia are well explained, so far as the negro is interested in the statement that one Rev Wm Fincher, a colored missionary preacher, employed at a salary of $ per month, and paid by the Georgia Equal Rights Association, was arrested in Pike county in that State as a vagrant tried by State law, and sentenced to the chain gang for a year The highest court in the State affirmed the decision holding among other things that the North had no right to send money South to pay for such services and Fincher has been in the chain gang about six months The Milwaukie Sentinel is our authority for this statement

The school census of Minnesota taken in October, shows 105,315 persons between 5 and 21 years old against 87,211 last year At the same ratio which gave 350,000 population in June 1865, this would give 410,000 in June 1866 The estimate of steamboat men is that 100,000 have come to St Paul since June making the population of the State at this time 550,000 At the usual rate of increase this would give 750,000 in 1868

The Daily Oregonian.

FRIDAY MORNING, FEBRUARY 1, 1867

Oh!

A Johnson's organ, in its issue of yesterday, was eager than usual. With an air of portentous wisdom and awful gravity, it gave information to all concerned that "the long suffering and greatly forbearing Democracy" are about to "resort to arms." It is shocked, because, as it says, "the silly OREGONIAN, with school-boy twaddle, essays to ridicule the following declaration:

"The President's Washington evening organ of yesterday says: The Administration stands firm. If the Radical majority pursues its treasonable course much longer, the Government, in order to sustain itself, will arm its supporters.'"

We plead guilty. We did "ridicule" that "declaration." But our credulous cotemporary, who has reached a period of life when people, unfortunately, are too easily imposed on, believed the whole story. Gullible individual! He never suspected that this fearful "declaration" was simple fustian! Pity that innocence like his should be exposed to the wiles of designing men! But let us see the denouement of this "declaration" of direful import, which we had the unpardonable levity to ridicule. It will strike those who are capable of appreciating a good thing, that the following dispatch will make that solemn leader of yesterday appear sufficiently ridiculous to gratify the most exacting person:

The National Republican says it has the highest authority for asserting that the article alleged to have appeared in its columns favoring armed resistance to Congress, was not authorized or sanctioned by the President.

This item was bungled by the telegraph, but its meaning is obvious. The article over which the Administration organ makes so dreadful a pother, "was not authorized or sanctioned by the President." Has anybody been "sold?" If so, is our too credulous contemporary the man? Perhaps he has by this time a glimmering notion that the OREGONIAN is not quite so "silly" as he supposed it; and that the word "silly" is the very expression which most accurately describes himself. It is pitiful to see simple-minded people made sport of after this fashion by sensation telegraphic announcements!

While we are on this subject we may as well tender this oft-deluded individual a little gratuitous advice. We would caution him against being humbugged into a belief that his champion and almoner, A. Johnson, is going to offer forcible resistance to Congress. Let him dismiss this idea, let him get rid of this delusion, and he will be betrayed into fewer ludicrous blunders.

What Would Have Been

A little while ago a statement was made in a European journal that the indemnity which Prussia had exacted from Austria amounted to a sum so large as to require the labor of twenty six men for one week to tell out the coin. The war cost Prussia $42,000,000, and she has levied upon her enemies the immense sum of $56,200,000 which they have been obliged to count down at her demand. Thus the whole cost of the war is defrayed by these exactions, and over $14,000,000 is left as the clear profits of one campaign.

It is argued by certain people that our late conflict was not a rebellion, but that it was simply a war, subject to the same rules and usages which govern two independent nations which have appealed to arms as the final arbitrament of their difficulties. Grant that this is a correct view of the case, and then let us ask what principle in the laws of nations or the laws of war, would forbid the conqueror from laying upon the vanquished the cost of the struggle? See what Prussia has done. The course she has taken has been pursued by every victorious nation. If, therefore, the United States has refrained from levying the expenses of the war upon her enemies, she has done so simply through motives of policy, and not because the vanquished could rightfully claim the exemption.

Had the Southern Confederacy succeeded, had the North been conquered by the South as the South has been by the North, the victors would have given us instruction in the lesson which Prussia has just administered to Austria. The North would have had to pay every dollar of the Confederate debt and to repudiate every dollar of her own. The exactions would have been endless. Every slaveholder who had lost any of his chattels by the war would have had double indemnity. Heads would have fallen faster than they ever fell under the rule of the bloody French triumvirate. Such men as Butler, Sumner, Stevens, Grant, Logan, Stanton, and all other "leading traitors" would have gone to the gallows long ago. The chivalry would have given full license to their vengeance. The vanquished would not now be talking of "rights." And leading Copperheads would have witnessed with delight the carnival of robbery, of confiscation and of blood.

LEGISLATION FOR OREGON.—The reports which we have occasionally published of the doings of the late Legislature of Idaho, have, we doubt not, convinced readers that that body was quite incomparable as a legislative assembly. The following additional item which we copy from the Owyhee Avalanche of the 19th ult., would seem to show that Idaho Territory was quite too small a field for that ambitious assembly to operate in, so it kindly undertook to legislate also for Oregon.

Considering the anathemas so generously bestowed upon the Yamhill Nation by the late Legislature, any legislation for that country could not reasonably have been expected, but as there is no telling where lightning will strike, neither is there any method of prognosticating the acts of a Territorial Legislature. The Forks of the Owyhee river lie fully fifteen miles west of the Idaho boundary, therefore in Oregon. By an Act of the Legislature, I. W. Knight—a Boise county member—has been granted the right to construct bridges and collect tolls for a period of fifteen years at the point named. This might be termed an Act for the relief of the Oregon Legislature, as it would have been called upon for a franchise in the course of time. Messrs. Creal, Bishop and Fife, in company with others, are now constructing bridges in Baker county, Oregon, and their notice implies that the said Forks will run right under their bridges. Whether these gentlemen are acting in contempt of the Idaho Statutes made and provided is a question which probably don't disturb their slumbers, however interesting it may be to the member from Boise county.

Speaking of the outlay made comparatively throughout Europe upon military armaments, and upon matters of public utility, the journal La Liberte, edited by the well known Emile de Girardin, states that "in time of peace Europe maintains an effective force of 3,815,847 soldiers. The maintenance of the different armies forming the number costs $700,000,000 per annum, which is 32 per cent. of the total expenditure of the different governments. With that sum devoted to works of peace, Europe might add yearly 12,000 miles of railway to her net work." The same journal states that in the United States the annual receipts from railways amount to $500,000,000, which, admitting the population of the United States and France to be about the same, is something like twice and a half times the expenditure per head more in the former country than in the latter.

GOLD DUST REGULATIONS.—The merchants and business men of Walla Walla have unanimously agreed to the following regulations:

We, the undersigned, citizens of Walla Walla, hereby on our oaths and honor, bind and pledge ourselves that we will not take or allow to be taken by our employees for us, GOLD DUST at over the following rates, in any business transactions, or in payment of debts:

Congressional.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—In the Senate Washburn presented a petition for the removal of the capital to a position nearer to the center of population.

Wilson from the Military Committee reported the bill recently introduced by him to abolish and prohibit peonage in the Territories.

Poland gave notice that when the one term amendment of the Committee came up he should move to amend by extending the term to six years. He was in favor of restricting the service of the President to one term but believed it ought to be for six years.

Trumbull called up the act giving United States judges power to grant writs of habeas corpus in all cases where any person is restricted of liberty in violation of the constitution or any laws. The bill was verbally amended and passed.

The tariff bill was taken up. The duty on iron ore was reduced to three fourths of a cent. The duty on bay rum was fixed at $1 50 per gallon. The duty on bunting was fixed at 50 cents per pound ad valorem. The duty on all cotton hosiery, whether knitted, made in frames or by hand, was fixed at 10 cents per pound ad valorem. The duty on umbrellas and parasols was fixed at 6 cents per dozen ad valorem.

The House proceeded to consider Stevens' reconstruction bill, and was addressed by Julian of Indiana, Scofield of Pennsylvania and Cullom of Illinois. The former declared himself against the bill, as he favored the territorial theory and was in favor of keeping the rebel States from representation for an indefinite period. Stevens amended the bill in several particulars, striking out the sixth section, which declared that any State abrogating any of the provisions of the bill should therefore forfeit representation. Stevens appealed to Bingham to withdraw his motion to refer. Bingham asked the House to decide for itself and declined to withdraw his motion. Stevens said the reference of the bill would be its death. Bingham said he did not recognize the authority of the venerable gentleman (Stevens) to say so. Stevens reminded Bingham that he had not asked authority and did not propose either to take his counsel recognize his authority or believe a word he said. The Speaker said the remarks of the gentleman from Pennsylvania were out of order. After considerable discussion the House voted to refer the bill by 88 to 65. The Democratic members all voted in the affirmative. Adjourned.

NEW YORK, Jan. 29.—Bidwell of California, from the Committee on Agriculture, gave notice of a bill to organize the Agricultural Department. The Committee on Indian Affairs have reported adversely on the bill to indemnify citizens of Washington Territory and Oregon for property destroyed in 1866.

The President returns the Nebraska bill assigning similar objections as were used in the case of Colorado. The condition affixed by Congress is inconsistent with the original purpose and intent of the bill, without precedent, and in conflict with the Constitution.

WASHINGTON, Jan. 29.—In the Senate the Chair submitted the Colorado veto message, and asked what action should be taken. After some debate the morning hour expired and the message went over till to-morrow. It is not expected that the veto vote will be taken till the arrival of Pomeroy and Burns the Kansas Senators, when it is hoped to pass the bill over the veto.

The tariff bill was taken up, and after slight amendments had been agreed to, Davis moved to re-commit the bill for comparison with the internal revenue bills for the purpose of reducing taxation to the amount of $100,000,000. [The President's Private Secretary here entered with the veto of the Nebraska bill.] Grimes of Iowa, moved to strike out that portion of Davis' motion, and to modify by a decrease of $100,000,000 in taxation. Davis accepted the modification. After debate the motion to re-commit was rejected.

WHITHER ARE WE DRIFTING?—That's what the printers want to know. One of their ancient landmarks is gone. The bachelors of the fraternity count another "vacant chair." A venerable leader, a deacon, so to speak, has deserted them and gone into the Benedict business. What we mean is that Waite—E. Melancthon Waite—who for years and years, nobody knows how many, stood at the head of the Anti-Marrying Printer's League, has gone—we know not where. Yes, the poor fellow, the "old man [illegible]," is gone at last. We didn't think he'd ha' done it—but as the adage says, "Man proposes and"—woman [illegible], and so the deed is done. At Salem on the 26th ult., he passed away without a single regret so far as the [illegible] are able to testify, Rt Rev Bishop Scott administering the last rites that we may pay to those who depart—in that particular way. Farewell, sweet youth! The printers' labour thou hast left on the single-blessed side of Jordan will mourn thee as sleeping, and not dead. Though grieved and stricken, comfort will yet be distilled upon their hearts, even as the morning dew droppeth upon the flowers—if there's any virtue in beer. And they say he was got up regardless of expense, too. Verily "in the midst of life"—but why dwell on the mournful theme? Vale, Waite, vale. He always paid his washer-[illegible]!

CIRCUIT COURT.—The Circuit Court, Judge Shattuck, sitting, adjourned on Wednesday, the 30th, to Monday, February 4th. The proceedings of the last two days were as follows:

M P Ross and wife vs. J. H. Sellier, continued to February term.

W. S Wills vs. J S. Burkel, order entered for publication of summons to non-resident defendant.

Stephen Coffin vs. G W Vaughn, by agreement of the parties continued to February term.

J H. Mitchell vs. J S. [illegible], order entered for publication of summons to non resident defendant.

W. A. Miller et al vs. S. Simmons & Son, demurrer of [illegible] overruled; ruling excepted to and cause continued to February term.

[illegible] vs Cincinnatus Shultz and wife and J C [illegible], order entered for publication of summons to [illegible] wife, non resident defendants.

[illegible]—The Tanner troupe at the Oro Fino, last [illegible] played to a fair house. Mr A. Sprague appeared for the first time and made decided hits, both in his darkey acts and as Miss Lucinda in the farces of "Miss [illegible] Visit" and "High Life in Old Virginia." His [illegible] Hornpipe" and "Essence of Old Virginia" were [illegible] better than we are accustomed to see on the [illegible] stage. As Miss Lucinda he was excellent, and [illegible] enthusiastic and well-deserved applause. Miss [illegible] is a very pleasant little [illegible], with a sweet voice which by the way, needs some training yet, but she never fails to gratify her audience and rarely fails to draw an encore. Tanner and Graham supported their parts well and, altogether the entertainment was above the average. They will play again one night next week when an attractive bill will be presented with Sprague and Miss [illegible], of course, in leading parts.

[illegible] BY THE "PACIFIC."—The following list of [illegible] went yesterday by the Pacific, to San Francisco: Hon E Mallory, Capt G H Weeks U S A, wife, 2 [illegible] & servant, Lt D B Hodgsdon U S A, Lt G M [illegible] U S A, Col J McCraken, Capt D W Porter, E Waterman, Geo Thatcher, M H Farley, L O Willard, Vin Cook, Miss M Wright, D W Crooks, H W Sylvester, F Beck, William Thomas, A B Elfelt, T Dittenhoffer, C O [illegible], Wm [illegible], J B Nichols, J Evans, J L Boone & wife, J W Pittfield, T H Lamb, E Conway, J W Beach, [illegible], J D [illegible], S D Smith, H W Warren, G W [illegible], L T Schultz, F G Schwatka, N Hudson, Chas [illegible], W Alexander, Louis Saar, Dr V Marshall, J [illegible], [illegible] Proctor, Mrs S E Ripperton, W S [illegible], [illegible], Miss M Miller, E Montgomery, J B Condon, [illegible] & children, S S P Childers (W F & Co's [illegible]), and 16 in the steerage.

BROKEN SEWER.—The city will have another bill to pay for sewer repairs, on Salmon street, consequent on the faulty manner of construction. During the last few days a plank in the bottom of the sewer, opposite the [illegible] got loose and actually floated down the sewer. The action of the water from the overflowed basin [illegible], found the leak and that and the water of the sewer [illegible] washed out a large hole in the street and carried the dirt down the sewer and discharged it into the river. Workmen were engaged yesterday in making repairs. The water basin at the corner of Salmon and Fifth [illegible] being insufficient to receive all the water coming to it, a considerable portion of it has been running along the street gutter and undermining the curb planking.

AN UNEASY MOORING.—The Pacific, up to her sailing [illegible], was moored at the lower end of Couch & [illegible] wharf, since the great rise in the river. At an ordinary stage there is a very quiet eddy at that place, but at [illegible] the under currents foment great boiling [illegible] which would occasionally catch the ship with [illegible] power and either send her thumping against the wharf or straining at her cables. During Wednesday night the ship had out every line she had on board, made fast in every direction, and yet she surged so much as to break her fastenings in one place.

THE "PACIFIC'S" FREIGHT LIST.—The steamship Pacific sailed yesterday, with the following freight for San Francisco: 5,159½ sks flour, 3,060 bxs apples, 35½ bbls dried apples, 249 hides, 123 cases lard, 6½ bbls lard, 20 bbls beef, 129 bxs eggs, 25 pkgs furniture, 56 empty bbls, 10 rolls leather, 10 bxs tobacco, 5 bxs herring, 1 buggy, 5 cases hides, 4 bales do, 6 pkgs do.

TREASURE.—The following is the treasure shipment per steamer Pacific, Jan. 31st:

Wells, Fargo & Co	$74,000
[illegible] Bros	3,000
Millard & Van Schuyver	3,850
Ladd & Tilton	12 500
Total	$93,350

THE RIVER.—The Willamette continued to rise throughout the day yesterday, though rather slowly. A telegram from Salem to Oregon City stated that at the former place the river fell about eight inches from six to eleven o'clock in the forenoon. The greatest height of water here has probably been already reached. No great amount of damage has thus far been reported.

PRIVATE ENTERPRISE.—Some of the citizens of the south end of the city, are having a foot bridge built across the [illegible] in front at the foot of Harrison. They have no means of crossing without making a detour up the ravine and as nobody seemed to have any authority to do anything at the city's expense, they are doing the bridge as a private enterprise.

LETTERS FROM OREGON.—The Springfield Republican is publishing letters from Oregon written at Salem, over the signature of "B."—a very readable series. They are probably written by Mr Asahel Bush, who we believe was acquainted with some of the Republican people previous to his emigration to Oregon.

SAILED FROM SAN FRANCISCO.—A telegram of yesterday, Jan. 31st, announces that the Montana and the Oriflamme were advertised to leave at 10 o'clock A. M. of that day. The Oriflamme may therefore, be expected to arrive on [illegible] evening, and the Montana, probably, next day.

NO MAILS.—No mails were received yesterday from any point beyond Oregon City in consequence of continued high water in Pudding river and the Molalla. We may content ourselves to endure this deprivation till the floods subside.

OFF FOR THE EAST.—Mr Mallory, F G Schwatka, and a number of Oregonians, left on the Pacific, yesterday, for the East. They take with them the best wishes of friends, for a safe and speedy passage.

GONE BELOW.—We noticed among the passengers by the [illegible] of yesterday, the names of Col John McCraken, A B Elfelt, and numbers others of our merchants who are going below for a few weeks on business.

SALE OF REAL ESTATE.—Marshal Hoyt will sell to-day, at eleven o'clock in front of the court house certain real estate on B street, for delinquent assessments.

STATE ITEMS.

The Willamette Woolen Manufactory at Salem pays a monthly tax on its manufactures to the Government of $1 500 to $2,000.

A business directory for Salem will be issued about the last of February. It will contain about [illegible] pages [illegible] statistical matter in reference to the city.

Two men named Charles Starr and [illegible] Holt were arrested at Salem last week charged with having robbed a store in [illegible]. They were taken back to the latter place for trial.

S J Culver, one of the parties engaged in the bloody affray in Douglas county a few weeks since, made his escape from jail on the 14th of January. Nothing had been heard from him at last accounts.

NO FREIGHT.—The Alert came down yesterday without any freight. She brought a number of passengers from Oregon City.

DRESS MAKES THE MAN.—Barman Bros can furnish you the clothes. Dress well and you will look well and feel well.

SUCCESSFUL BURGLARY.—STOWELL CHAMBERLAIN & CO.'S SAFE BLOWN OPEN AND ROBBED.—Our town was startled on Friday morning by the discovery of a great burglary in the Banking Office of Messrs Stowell Chamberlain & Co. The safe was a double one made by Lewis Lillie & Son, of the largest size, weighing many thousand pounds. The burglars obtained an entrance into the office by prying open one of the windows with a jimmy. In the lower left hand corner of the right hand outer door of the safe which was two inches thick a hole was drilled through which powder was introduced. It was blown open separating the outside from the bolts and inside casing, rendering it a complete wreck. The lower hinges of both doors were broken off. They next attacked the inside safe which was two feet high, extending the width and depth of the inside of the main safe. This safe was one and a half inches thick, made with folding doors. They drilled another hole through the right hand door in nearly the same point they had on the outside safe, blowing open both doors. This gave them access to the money and bonds, amounting to twenty five thousand dollars which they carried off. The larger portion of this belonged to special depositors. They also took valuable papers belonging to the firm, leaving in their flight a bag of gold and silver, also a hundred dollar bill. This safe was made to order by Mr Lillie, of chilled iron and was supposed to be burglar-proof, as it was a double safe, one inside the other, with Lillie's combination locks on the outside and inside doors. No trace of the burglars has been discovered. They came well prepared with jimmies, drills, gunpowder &c. The clerk of the bank did not leave there until twelve o'clock at night. The explosion was heard about four in the morning showing they were expeditious in their work.

The undersigned, who has always enjoyed public confidence for the excellent quality of his Coffee, neglects nothing to justify the good name acquired by his productions, the sale of which daily increases. The acknowledged superiority of his merchandise, which commands here and in the markets of the interior, a relatively higher price, excites the cupidity of some manufacturers, and every day he sees increasing the number of those who by counterfeit or imitation of his mark seek to deceive the public, palming upon them their inferior productions for the genuine G. VENARD CHARTRES COFFEE. This fraud can deceive nobody after a trial, but only adds to the favorable opinion of the consumers, the very flattering though unwilling testimony of the counterfeiters. Nevertheless, buyers should be forewarned and placed on their guard against this practice.

Friends they tell us,
Are blind and jealous
Man's a creature of fickle mind,
Words of devotion
Change with a notion,
Or a "lapsus linguæ" more oft we find

Love's a passion
Quite out of fashion
Perfidy—only a harmless white lie
For greenbacks or gold
Hearts rented—or sold—
Repaired—made to order—who wants to buy?

Second hand best
Has stood the test,
Can throb "to order" neath any man's vest,
Can "throb" for you—
And another one too,
Or any one else with a "feathered nest"

All the pleasure,
Life's dearest treasure,
'Tis not worth striving for as a prize,—
On the old maid's plan,—
We'll sing "for a man—
A man—sion in the skies."

NELLIE CRANSTON

WHISKY—WHAT MEN DRINK FOR PURE SPIRITS.—Since the commencement of the investigations by the Government officials into illicit distillery business, some queer revelations have been made in regard to the manufacture of whisky. The processes of manufacturing this vile stuff are as various as the quality of nine-tenths of the bar rooms throughout the city. Men have no idea of what they drink under the name of whisky

It is now a matter of impossibility to get a glass of pure whisky or liquor of any kind, even in what is considered first-class places. The illicit distillation of whisky has been carried on since the tax of $2 per gallon, put on by the Government, by small stills. As recently as Tuesday one of the Assessors was informed that some parties were manufacturing it in wash-kettles. After a few hours' search an old woman was found manufacturing what is called "potteen" in a kettle. The compound was sufficient to have poisoned a regiment of men if they had drank enough of it.

"Potteen," or illicit Irish and Scotch whisky, is far-famed as an ingredient for making whisky, punch or whisky skins. The singular flavor of the Irish is supposed to be caused by using turf for the extraction of malt. In making potteen, that distilled from pure malt is considered superior to that made from the mixture of malt and raw grain. To assign a reason for this would require an analysis of the process of malt, but it may be observed that the effects of the malting process are similar to those the grain undergoes in the course of vegetation, when sown in the ground. The constituents or elements of this whisky are alcohol, pelargonic ether, acetic ether, fusil oil and pyroligneous acid (crude creosote). Whisky owes its flavor to pelargonic ether, which is nearly identical with œnanthic ether. The smoky taste apparent in Scotch whisky is imparted by pyroligneous acid, and is usually imitated by adding a small quantity of creosote dissolved in acetic ether.

The manufacturer subsequently, not content with making a respectable imitation of the genuine liquor, from new spirits and harmless flowers, must needs reduce the alcohol so much by the addition of water that it becomes necessary to resort to the alleviation of giving the spirit a fictitious strength by the addition of Guinea pepper, pellitory, or grains of Paradise. This method of adulteration imparts a burning taste to the spirit, which, by the ignorant is considered an evidence of strength. By this means the dealer makes 50 gallons of imitation alcohol out of 25 gallons of genuine, by adding to the latter 25 gallons of water, charged with Guinea pepper, &c, and mixing in a sufficient beading. The receipt usually used is as follows

To 40 gallons common whisky, add :
30 gallons of water.
5 gallons tincture of Guinea pepper.
1 quart tincture of pellitory.
2 ounces acetic ether.
1½ gallons strong tea.

To improve the flavor of this whisky add three ounces pulverized charcoal, and four ounces ground rice into a gallon of spirits, letting it stand for a week, and stirring it every day.—N. Y. Express.

A GOOD BRECKINRIDGE DEMOCRAT.—Andrew Johnson and all the Copperheads, without exception are straining every nerve to defeat the constitutional amendments, and are threatening civil war if republican governments are established. We now and then get a glimpse of the motives which prompt these precious conspirators. They think the American people, having repeatedly defeated the traitors in battle and their allies at the ballot boxes, can be driven into allowing the combination to vote at the next Presidential election. Now, while it is manifest that in that contest the Republican Union party, with all the Southern Union States voting as they did in 1860, could elect their own men, yet if they blindly yielded to an adjustment which simply allowed the authors of the rebellion to throw two votes for one cast by the genuine friends of the Government in the North, they would not only dishonor the illustrious dead, but make themselves the laughing stock of the living in every civilized land. A neat illustration of the way the people operate has just been presented in Kentucky, in which the Confederate or rebel Democrats are to hold a convention next February, to nominate a candidate for Governor, who is to be elected in August of 1867. Colonel William Preston, who was American minister to Spain during Buchanan's administration, and member of Congress from the Louisville district, and then a general in the rebel army, is strongly presented for Governor. He writes a letter stating that he is willing to accept the nomination. In this letter he speaks in the most bitter and contemptuous terms of the constitutional amendment, and thinks it would be a disgrace to the people of Kentucky to ratify it. Now, if there is a man in the Union that ought to swing for his treason, it is this same vain and bombastic fool, Preston. And yet he is not only permitted to return to the country he outraged and betrayed, but is preparing to run for a high office in an adhering State. Of course he will be pardoned by his Accidency, so as to equip him entirely for the position of Governor. Here is a first-class Breckinridge Democrat, and we commend his case to his old friends in Philadelphia as a fair specimen of the way the Union is to be restored under what is called "My Policy."—Phila. Press.

"We should be glad to recommend the "Southern Orphans' Association" to the benevolent citizens of New York, but for one thing. In the printed circular, which has been sent us, we read that the object of the association is "to build a home for the destitute children of deceased Confederate soldiers." Why not for the destitute children of deceased Union soldiers in the Southern States, as well? The appeal for help is rightly made on the ground that these children should be cared for, in the interest of the whole country, and we should refuse nothing to such a cause, on the score that among its beneficiaries were the orphans of Confederate soldiers. But, if we are to be asked to act thus without prejudice, why shall we not demand of the managers of the association to act in like manner? Let the association take in the orphans of Southern soldiers, no matter whether their parents served in the Union or the rebellion, and we will recommend them very gladly to the charitable public. But while they make a distinction against the orphans of Union men, and will care only for the children of Confederate soldiers, we may here rightly refuse our help. Such a charity ought not to be made the means of perpetuating the bitterness of a struggle that is now past. Let the association declare its purpose to take care of the orphans of Southern soldiers, whether Union or Confederate, and they may fairly appeal to the public here

A colored man had stuck to rebel General Hood through thick and thin, and was in hopes of being able to march into Nashville and pay his respects to a lady of the upper crust of the colored society, when he discovered that the besieging army was retreating. Determined to break through the lines and throw himself upon the mercy of the Yankees, he presented himself to General Thomas, hat in hand, when the following dialogue ensued

"Where are you from ?"
"I'se jest from de army, sah"
"What army ?"
"Mr Hood's army, sah"
"Where is Mr. Hood now ?"
"He's leavin', sah, he's leavin'"
"Ah! I thought Mr Hood, as you call him, was coming into Nashville"
"No, sah; Mr. Hood thinks he can't do hisself justice in Nashville!"

A while ago a farmer in Virginia lost his wife, and, out of love for her memory, called his estate "Glenmary." A neighbor having met with the same affliction, and equally desirous of keeping before him the image of his dear departed, followed his example, and his farm is known by the name of "Glenbetsey."

The Scramble for the Delegateship in Washington Territory

The Walla Walla Statesman of the 25th ult has the subjoined remarks

Just at this writing the scramble for the honor of representing Washington Territory in Congress is so great that it would seem impossible to unite the vote on any particular candidate. This remark will apply more particularly to the Democratic party of the Territory. How many aspirants there may be outside of this immediate Valley, we of course, have no means of knowing but certainly their name is legion. Of those who are spoken of and who may be considered prominent, we name as hailing from the Sound country, Frank Clark, for several years a member of the Legislature, and generally regarded as a shrewd politician. Then there is Judge McFadden, a gentleman who has had large experience in public life, and who has many friends scattered all over the country. W W Miller, also, of the Sound, is spoken of as a candidate, and is considered a strong man. These men are of Democratic antecedents, and their nomination will be pressed by those who delight to be termed "Simon pure Democrats." Next in order we have Elwood Evans, present Secretary of the Territory, and Phillip D Moore, Collector of Internal Revenue, both acting with the Democratic organization, and each of them supposed to have Congressional aspirations. Leaving the Sound country, and coming to the Columbia River, we find that Clark county presents two candidates, in the person of A J Lawrence and Columbia Lancaster, both of them gentlemen of undoubted Democratic antecedents. Coming to our own valley, the candidates are so numerous that it would require a dexterous marksman to throw a stone without hitting a Congressional aspirant. We have already published the names of a score of those aspirants, and scarce a day passes that does not bring to the surface the name of some new man, who is willing to sacrifice himself for the "dear people." It certainly will be admitted that this indecent scrambling is by no means creditable to the patriotism of our people

THE DISSOLUTION OF OUR UNION ARMIES.—A SPECTACLE AND A WARNING FOR THE WORLD.—"On November 1, 1866, 1,022,021 troops had been transferred, mustered out and paid, leaving in service 11,043 volunteers, colored and white." "Past experience shows that should any national emergency require a larger force than is provided by the peace establishment, armies could be swiftly organized to at least the full strength of a million of men."

These two sentences are extracts from the report of the Secretary of War. They are plain statements of facts, yet they are pregnant with meaning, and cover a history such as has never before been written of any nation of the earth. A civil war is the most demoralizing in which a country can be involved. It is embittered by sectional prejudice and personal vindictiveness. It is a war of father against son, of brother against brother. The feelings it leaves behind bear no analogy to those engendered by a war against a foreign enemy. The one rudely tears asunder all the nearest relations of life and bequeathes a legacy of hatred and revenge, the other serves to bind a people more firmly together in the bonds of national pride and of common sympathy. After five years of such a trying and demoralizing war as that through which this country has passed, we now present to the world the grand and wonderful spectacle of an army of over a million of men, quietly dissolved, and returned back to the peaceful occupations of life, without trouble, without excitement, and without disturbing by a ripple the steady flow of commercial and industrial interests. Thanks to the education and the intelligence of the American people, the license of camp life is forgotten as easily as the habiliments of the soldier are laid aside. The carnival of blood is no sooner ended than the ferocity and licentiousness it engenders are forgotten. The soldier lays down the musket and the bayonet to take up the plow, the hammer, or the pen. There is no marked increase of crime, no organized bands of cutthroats and robbers prowl about the country.

There is nothing, in fact, to show that a vast army has been released from the camp and the field, and let loose upon society, except a simple paragraph in an official report informing us that over one million of soldiers have been mustered out of service and transported to their homes. From the same source we are reminded that in case of a national emergency this million of men would swiftly leave the peaceful pursuits of life to which they have so quietly returned, and would spring forth again an army of disciplined and determined soldiers, ready for the field. What a spectacle does this present, and what a warning does it convey to the decaying monarchies of the Old World, who, in their senility, have been calculating upon the failure and anticipating the destruction of our young and vigorous Republic!—N. Y. Herald.

THE QUESTION OF IMPEACHMENT.—The writer of the article in the January number of the Atlantic Monthly, headed, "The Causes for which a President can be Impeached," sums up the result of his research as follows

"Thus it appears that the political offences of the Constitution for which civil officers are removable embrace, beside the high crimes and misdemeanors of the criminal law, a range as wide as the circle of official duties and the influence of official position, they include not only breaches of duty, but also misconduct during the tenure of office; they extend to acts for which there is no criminal responsibility whatever, they reach even personal conduct, they include, not merely acts of usurpation, but all such acts as tend to subvert the just influence of official position, to degrade the office, to contaminate society, to impair the Government, to destroy the proper relations of civil officers to the people and to the Government, and to the other branches of the Government.

"In fine, it may almost be said that a President, to do anything which he ought not to have done, or to have left anything undone which he ought to have done, is just cause for his impeachment, if the House, by a majority vote, feels called on to make it the ground for charges, and the Senate, by a two thirds vote, determine it to be sufficient, for the safety of the State is the supreme law, and these bodies are the final judges thereof."

SUFFERING IN THE SOUTH.—While Congress agonizes over the political South the social South is suffering terribly. The Times publishes a statement from Dr Crawford, a philanthropic minister of Kentucky, who has just returned from a visit to the States further South. He says their destitution and prostration are lamentable, and begs the churches of the North to inquire into the facts and come to the relief of their suffering brethren in the South. In Alabama alone there are 20,000 widows and 60,000 orphans, most of whom are dependent. In Georgia, it is said, there are 50,000 persons who must receive aid. Dr Crawford says that prominent people in the South have been withheld from proclaiming the misery around them "because bad men, even some calling themselves Christians, have already gloried in the hope of seeing the Southern Chivalry begging for bread."

A PROMISING YOUNG MAN.—It is said by those who ought to know, that young James Gordon Bennett, the son of the venerable editor of the New York Herald, and captain of the yacht Henrietta, unlike most of the youth of his native city, neither drinks, gambles, or dissipates in any way whatever. He is reputed to be "very smart," a close business man, a practical student, abounding in common sense, and only addicted to one overruling passion—that of having the fastest and most elegant yacht in the world, so that "e'n his failings lean to virtue's side." Such a man is an honor to his country, and to the editorial profession, and will not disgrace the company of Emperors and Queens. Young Bennett is about thirty years of age, and has taken his father's place in the Herald.

DEATH OF THE "LARGEST MAN."—Mr. Jacob Loucks, a respected citizen of Manchester township, York county, Pa, and supposed to be the largest man in the country, died on the 19th inst. of apoplexy, at the age of fifty seven years. He was exceedingly corpulent, and was supposed to weigh about five hundred pounds at the time of his death. His coffin measured thirty five inches in breadth by twenty three inches in depth. His weight was not far from that of Daniel Lambert of Leicestershire, England, which is given as 528 pounds, and who is said to have been the largest man in the world

In response to the London Times which hopes that "before long independence will follow confederation," the Toronto Leader says "There is no disguising the fact in legal independence means in the case of these provinces, annexation to the United States, if the Union can be reconstructed on a firm basis. This is what we feel, and the great majority of us dread."

There are now about 1,000 men employed on the Great Eastern lying in the Mersey river, Liverpool. She is to be thoroughly overhauled, and to receive two new boilers. On the 20th of March next she will leave to commence plying between New York and Brest, under the command of Sir James Anderson.

A Connecticut paper tells an anecdote of John Morrissey, thus "On one occasion when some rude men were denouncing a minister, Morrissey remarked 'My mother goes to that Minister's church, and I'll whip any man who speaks against my mother's minister.'"

LIST OF LETTERS remaining in the Post Office at Portland Oregon February 1st 1867. If not called for within one month they will be sent to the Dead Letter Office. A request for the return of a letter to the writer if unclaimed within thirty days or less written or printed with the writer's name, post office and State, across the left end of the envelope, on the face side, will be complied with —Sec 28, Law of 1863

to call at his office and be at once restored. Surgical operations SKILFULLY performed on the EYES for film, cataract strabismus or cross eyes

Below are some of the many testimonials

This is to certify that I, John B Jodwan, was blind for over nine years and I tried all means of a cure and and many doctors, and all of no effect, and I spent all the means I had. Finally, I had to become a county charge, and when I was taken to Dr G W Brown, and stated my case to him, and misfortune, he at once commenced to treat my eyes, and now I am well, and commend all those that are suffering with diseases of the eyes to call on Dr G W Brown. The reason why I do this is to let suffering humanity know where they can be cured

This is to certify that my daughter was almost blind for over seven years and was doctored by other physicians without obtaining any relief, when finally I took her to Dr G W Brown, who examined her case and at once began to give her treatment, and her sight has been entirely restored. I do this to let those who are suffering with diseases of the eyes know where they can obtain a cure. It has been three years since her eyes were cured, and they are yet sound
THOMAS LIVINGSTON,
Deer Creek Precinct, Douglas county, Oregon
SALEM July 21 1866

This is to certify that I was blind for over four months and almost blind for one year and a half, I tried several eye doctors but received no benefit. I had almost given my case up as hopeless when fortunately I heard of Dr G W Brown, now of Salem. I was induced to try him; he performed a surgical operation on my eyes and gave me treatment. I soon began to recover, and in a short time I was perfectly cured. I do this in justice to one who rescued me from a fate worse than death and also for the benefit of those who are laboring under similar afflictions that they may know where they can get relief. It is now about eight months since my eyes were cured and they still remain good. I can see to read the finest print without difficulty, and my eyes can bear the strongest light without pain

L. JAY S. TURNEY,

HAVING LEASED THE ABOVE NAMED HOTEL, is prepared to accommodate the traveling public, and ONE HUNDRED REGULAR BOARDERS, in as good style as any House on the Coast. He has determined to make the "Bennett" as good as the best and better than any public house in Salem. He will soon complete some important improvements, which will add greatly to its appearance and comfort, and intends to merit and hopes to receive his share of patronage

He has secured the services of "Charley" (known to be the best cook in Salem, and one of the best in the whole country) and other competent persons to manage the culinary department and is resolved to set as good a table as can be found anywhere—not in clap-trap, pomp and show, flummery and fine furniture, but in an abundant supply of the very best the market affords.

His Bar room will be kept warmed and lighted, and well supplied with newspapers, periodicals and other suitable reading matter, and kept in a manner which will make it an agreeable resort

In short, he intends making an effort to please ALL who stop at the BENNETT HOUSE. And he most respectfully requests his friends everywhere to give the old and well known stand at least one more trial before concluding they can do as well elsewhere, and promises if they are not well treated, and properly cared for, and at reasonable figures, it will not be the fault of the public's most obedient and most humble servant,

THE OYSTERS

PACKED BY

Louis M'Murray & Co.

OF BALTIMORE,

ARE ACKNOWLEDGED BY THE ENTIRE SAN Francisco Jobbing trade to be beyond comparison the best that come to this market. That

THEIR EXCELLENCE IS NOT IMAGINARY,

Any one who has tried them will admit, and the simple secret of their superiority lies in the extreme care and immense expense lavished upon their preparation. Each Oyster is opened by hand with the knife with strict regard to the preservation of the Liquor by which means all the original flavor is retained. Contrast this method with the one usually paraded of opening the Oysters in bulk by steaming, by which means the native Liquor is lost and a manufactured one is substituted and therefore for the actual superiority of this brand is at once apparent.

Send them immediately to Doctor Gibbon ... who has made private diseases his especial study for years, and who is certain to cure the most inveterate cases without mercury or any injurious drugs. It is important to those who are afflicted, or to those who are interested in the welfare of their friends, to be careful of the many pretended doctors who infest all cities, publishing their skill in curing all diseases in a few days, imposing upon the public by using the names of ... from Europe and other places. Be ... careful and make strict inquiry, or you may fall into the hands of these charlatans.

If relief be not obtained, should apply immediately, either in person or by letter, and have a cure effected by his new and scientific mode of treating this disease, which never fails of effecting a quick and radical cure.
